COLUMBUS, O., March 25.—Harry Stein, 31, and William Kimmelman, 20, both of this city, are held by police today in connection with the murder last night of Morris Davis, Columbus, alleged bootlegger, as he sat at the wheel of his automobile.

Davis was shot twice and beaten with a hammer. Wisps of red hair, clutched in his hands, and a bloody hammer, found on the floor of his car, are the only clues to the murderer.

The car was parked at a street curbing. Neighbors told police that a large touring car sped away from its side the moment the shots were fired.

"Come on, hurry up, get in here," one of the men in the speeding car yelled.

Police believe the murder was the result of a bootleg feud. Morris Rubin, a red haired associate of Davis, told officers that the "Gang" had accused Davis of tipping off Hooch shipments. Rubin was with Davis until 15 minutes before the murder it was claimed.

PROBE AFFAIRS OF THE GRAND THEATRE

The affairs of the Grand theatre are being gone over with a fine tooth comb by several attorneys in Judge Thompson's court. An application has been made by W F. McGinnis, a stock holder, asking for the removal of J. K. Peters, of Lorain, the receiver An effort is being made to make it appear that the receiver is negligent in his attention to business, and is not properly taking care of it.

Yesterday afternoon it developed that for two days a detective had been employed Saturday and Sunday checking up the numbers of people who entered the theatre and presumably paid their admission fee. Testimony was brought out as to the receipts as compared with the number of people who attended. No one knew how many passes were issued, and no guess was made as to how many minors were present. The case is attracting considerable attention, and will probably be concluded this afternoon.

Oil Stock Dealings Cost Daugherty and Smith $24,000 in '22

WASHINGTON, March 25—Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and his friend, the late Jesse Smith, lost $24,000 in 1922 in dealing in oil stocks, the senate public lands committee discovered today in questioning Anderson H. Tackett, a federal trade commission accountant who made an investigation of the books of Hibbs and Co., Washington brokers

Tackett said he found Daugherty and Smith carried a joint account designated as "W. W. Spaid Number 2" and Daugherty carried a personal account designated "W. W. Spaid Number 4" and that Smith had a personal account designated as "W W. Spaid Number 3" Daugherty's personal account was closed out June 1, 1922.

It was in the joint account that the $24,000 loss was incurred Tackett testified.

He found that Smith dealt principally in the stocks of three oil companies, Sinclair consolidated Mexican Petroleum and Mexican seaboard. In the Sinclair stock Smith made a profit of $3,317, in Mexican Petroleum, a profit of $556, and lost $172 in seaboard

After hearing Tackett and M. D. Thatcher, president of the First National Bank of Pueblo, Colo., who testified concerning Albert B. Fall's financial transactions with his bank, the committee adjourned until Thursday.

DISCREPANCIES IN LIQUOR FINES

$61,988.04 Ordered Returned to State and Jefferson County By State Examiners.

COLUMBUS, O., March 25.—Examination of the books of more than a score of townships and offices of justices of the peace, in various counties throughout the state disclosed marked discrepancies in the disposition of funds accuring from prosecution of prohibition laws, according to reports made public today by the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public accounts.

Findings for recovery of money, alleged due the state and Jefferson county, recorded after the examination of books in 16 villages in that area, aggregate $61,988.04. Examiners claim they found that part of the misdirection of this sum is due to misiinterpretation of the law regarding disposition of fines. In other cases Justices of the peace and mayors failed to turn over funds in their possession to the proper authorities, it is charged. The findings for recovery are for the period between November 1922, and December, 1923. The audit was made by H. H. Kennexy, state examiner.

In reporting the result of examination of the books of former justice of the peace, A. D. Mattison, of Warren township, Trumbull county, from whom the return of $1316.00 is asked, examiner Karl B. Dodge said:

"The Dockets show that a great number of criminal cases were held where no fines were imposed. However, in practcially all such cases, costs were paid to the justice of the peace and constables, which fact indicates that the justice of the peace used great care in the collection of costs which would accrue to his personal benefit and was more, or less, negligent in the collection of fines that would benefit a public treasury."

"Such conduct," the examiner declared, "gives the impression that justice of the peace Mattison was interested in the prosecution of offenders for his own personal gain rather than for the purpose of preventing further violations of law by inflicting the proper penalty."

"During the period from October 19, 1923, to November 26, 1923, Mr. Mattison heard 838 criminal cases," the report said, "and in but one case was a fine imposed. However, his docket shows that costs were collected in practically every case."

"Your examiner was informed that numerous complaints had been made by judgment debtors," the report said, "in regard to their not having received proper credit for payments into the court of the Justice of the peace."

Although the justice of the peace kept "all kinds of books the examination revealed, none except the dockets and files were available for the examiners, the rest having been removed, it was claimed in the examiners report

Other irregularities shown in this court were, release of prisoners before their sentences had expired, and failure of the docket records to show the fine imposed

STEAL MAIL SACKS WITH PAYROLLS OF HARVEY, ILLINOIS

HARVEY, Ill., March 25.—Four bandits today held up the employees at the Illinois Central station here, seized two registered mail sacks containing between $110,000 and $150.000 in currency and escaped in an automobile.

The money was consigned from the Federal Reserve bank at Chicago to the First National bank of Harvey to be used for payrolls of large manufacturing plants here.

Cars In Crash

It was being transferred from an Illinois Central railroad car to a truck when the holdup occurred.

A mile and a half from Harvey, the speeding bandit car crashed into a southbound automobile, demolished it and continued, apparently little harmed, toward Chicago.

Reserve squads of Chicago police armed with riot guns were ordered mobilized in an effort to head the bandit off.

All police agencies in Cook county had been notified of the robbery by radio less than half an hour after it occurred.

Well Planned Holdup

Little information to aid the pursuers could be gained at the scene of the crime. Wm. Russell, sixty, I. C. employee, who was engaged in transferring the mail sacks when the bandits swooped down upon him was able to give police but meager descriptions of the members of the gang.

The entire robbery occupied less than three minutes, he said, and police are of the opinion a gang of professional crooks, who had laid careful plans, were responsible for it.

DEATH AND LIFE'S DUTIES

We wonder sometimes in the mad rush for amusement and to while away the time, that some people are not endeavoring to avoid the thought that finally the end of life is coming. Some people cannot bear to be alone. They cannot bear to think. Some of them, indeed, are not capable, but when they do let their minds run, they are fearful lest they will think that finally the end is coming. After all, occasionally life should be judged, frankly, in relation to its approaching end.

The person has been dubbed a pessimist who dwelt too much on the thought of death. He has often, whether young or old, been said to take life too seriously. But what better remainder could there be to us to make our lives worth while than to give a thought occasionally to death. Without venturing into the realm where the poets reign supreme, we would like to suggest that that is the only real sure thing about life—that is, that it is going to end sometime. It is a gruesome thought that tonight or tomorrow all may be over with us but it is good for us now and then to contemplate just such a possibility.

Measured by life's span, how much that we do is really worth while? Such contemplation normally indulged in would not make us burdensome to ourselves and to others because of our serious outlook. We would soon find that just as the old adage said, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" so in order to do our best work in the world, in order to give the best service to our fellowmen, it is necessary for us to relax occasionally, to ease down, even to abandon ourselves to the amusement at hand. But such relaxation would certainly be of secondary importance. The important thing would be our work, our service. We would take our pleasure in order to better fit ourselves to work. And as is the case with too many of us nowadays, perform our work to free ourselves for the pleasures of the evening or the holiday.

When we are face to face with a great crisis in our life, when the angel of death hovers near, many of us have felt barriers of class, of wealth, of position fall away and different estimates of personal quality take the place of the old ones. We turn to the persons who have had similar experiences, no matter who they are. There are higher estimates of personality than money, position or family. Consideration and sympathy are of more importace than many other standards by which we judge those whom we like to have it our "clique."

A hearty laugh together has been known to unite two enemies of long standing, and tears shed by two persons in a common sorrow forms a bond that can hardly be broken.

PROPAGANDA AND TRUTH

We just had come to hand such an amusing and insidious piece of propaganda that we are tempted to describe it entirely aside from the cause in the interest of which it it promulgated.

At a meeting in New York on anti-censorship of theatres and literature recently, the speaker asked three questions calling for self-conviction on the part of the members of the audience who would make themselves conspicuous by answering in any way than the way the speaker wanted them to answer, and at any rate they would have made themselves conspicuous, since the meeting was an anti-censorship meeting, the anti-censorship people were in the majority, unless the meeting was packed.

The speaker's first question was, "I would like to have anyone who has been so harmed (harmed by a so-called dirty book) to hold up his hand:" second, "I would like anyone in the audience to raise his hand who knows of anyone who has been injured by a so-called dirty book:" and the last question, also called for the raising of the hand of a single person who had not been harmed by the prudery of those who advocated against the printing and circulating of certain literature. Because no one raised their hand, on any question, it is thought that the proof is heavy against censorship.

It is impossible that the American Protective League which asked this data in a handbill, which they have sent out all over the country, acted sincerely. It is ridiculous to believe that they would seek to prove a point with such absurd data. We believe that the people of the country are too well informed to have anything like this put over on them. Are we right or are they right? On the surface, this bill seems to present us with facts but we believe that people are not so gullible as those who broadcasted this piece of propaganda thought we were.

—o—

And now a Washington scientist has evolved the "stingless" bee. That may be all right as far as the "honey" bee is concerned, but we have positive proof that some species of the "gubernatorial" bee can never be made "stingless."

—o—

We believe it would pay the United States Government to employ a Phrenology expert to test all United States Senators and cabinet members before they are permitted to exercise the right of office.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

A correspondent of The Way of the World writes to say that in his opinion the radio may be made the means whereby man's life shall be related to the spiritual forces of the unseen world. This may be talking for the far realms of the future. The wonders wrought by the mysteriously guided hand of man in the last century lead us to believe in the limitless progress of a future day. Many people feel that there are sources of power just outside themselves which they can but dimly understand.

At the western end of a drive to be known as the Roosevelt Trail, in the magnificent Central Park in New York, will stand the Roosevelt Memorial. A splendid building to cost above two millions, it will stand next to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. This mighty granite reminder of one of the three or four greatest presidents this nation has had will be none too rich and splendid to keep alive for the generations of the future the remembrance of the amazing spiritual and mental gifts of one American human being. Aside from any honor that such a memorial can pay the great citizen, his life will continue to influence profoundly the lives and thoughts and habits of thousands of American men and women. That, indeed, apart from "storied urn and animated bust," is true immortality.

Doctors discover that women have eyes more sensitive than the eyes of men. Cigaret smoking is damaging their sight. It may in some cases even cause blindness. Poor woman! There is always somebody popping up to prove that she can't do the things that men do and get away with. And they try so hard.

There is law enough in New Jersey to indict twenty thousand Sabbath violators, although the victims do nothing but what the majority of folks do every sunday. There is almost no sensible limit to the activities that Jersey's famous blue laws cover. There is talk of indicting several clergymen for allowing religious plays to be produced on Sunday. It is well for us to be stirred up now and then by this sort of thing. We all have laws that we like. We are very eager to have OUR laws enforced—the ones we approve of—but we are glad to have other laws—the ones we hate—overlooked. When you make a speech to your next door neighbor about law enforcement be sure that you mean what you say. When you say ALL laws, do you really mean ALL laws. Are you sure when silliness ends and sense begins?

A six-year-old boy in Clapham, England, plays the pipe organ and composes music. Some day there will be schools of the sort that will permit boys and girls of unusual gifts to advance as fast as their talents will permit them. They will not be held back in the common handicap, made necessary by taking care of the average or the under-average. That will be an IDEAL school.

KOMICAL TELEGRAMS

By JIM ARMITAGE, Himself

Reverend Eastman, of Amherst, was in our midst last night and told about his "Moose hunting in Quebec."

There are very few Moose in Ohio according to Eastman and there's a law against shooting them. Course, if a fellow happened to shoot Ross Baum or Earl Peters or some of those Moose—they wouldn't enforce the law.

He demonstrated "The Call of the Moose." I've heard it—"What've you got." Then the other Moose rake in the jack-pot.

He claimed "The Elk is almost extinct." Guess he never happens around Second street. They're very much in evidence—especially in the open season.

This moose hunting is great sport the way Eastman tells it. You carry a pack weighing a couple of hundred pounds for sixty-four miles. Then you pitch your camp among the mosquitoes—and see if you get any rest.

Then the guide takes you out to where the moose are—and you see a couple and the horried old moose runs away just when you're going to shoot at him.

The guide talks French and the Indians talk Ojibway and when you miss the moose you talk profane.

Course he showed a picture or two of "Moose he caught." He was hunting in Quebec—and in the pictures there were palm trees.

Now, no one seemed to doubt the reverend gentleman—but a lot of them used the little judgment they were blessed with.

* * *

That's why they call 'em "Bull" moose but he didn't feature that.

After he finished the talk they elected him president for the coming year—served him right. His pictures showed him to be a bear for punishment.

And they're going to have a county wide crow hunt. Young crows, not the famous Old Crow—everybody seems to be hunting for that.

He's going farther north next trip and stay a month longer, if he gets a call to a larger church—or if the Amherst brothers loosen up a little more.

He ought to try passing out some of his hunting talks on Sunday evenings—it would keep a lot of his parishoners awake.

He's the only speaker in captivity who ever spoke on "moose hunting" without referring to our late President Roosevelt.

He went over big and some day he's coming back—

"FASCISM HAS SOUND ECONOMIC BASE," SAYS ITALIAN ENVOY TO U. S.

A vigorous defense of the Mussolini regime in Italy, supported by statistics showing Fascism has placed Italy on a sound economic foundation, was made recently by Prince Gelasio Caetani, Italian ambassador to the United States.

PRINCE CAETANI

"Mussolini," Prince Caetani said, is convinced it matters little what is the politics of a Government as long as it operates in full harmony with the laws of economics [illegible] politics from interfering and has the energy and moral courage to carry out what is required by these laws.

"Many people looked with distrust toward Mussolini and are now amazed at what Fascism has accomplished. It was done with the same means as are at the disposal of every Government, but for the addition of one factor, will power—of the leader and of the people. Mussolini could not accomplish the miracle if he did not have behind him the people of Italy.

"The moment has not yet come to sing victory. Yet wonders have been accomplished. Industrial strikers in 1923 were only one-fourth as many as in 1922. Unemployment has been reduced one-third. New industries have started. The budget deficit has been decreased by 1,000,000,000 lire and the lira has been stabilized. Italian war loan securities have gained; Government bonds are at par. Judicial administration and school reforms have been completed. The Italian state railways have been placed on a sound basis. Trade between Italy and the United States has increased."

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Selma Lagerlof, who is coming to America to attend the Women's Congress to be held in Washington in May, is regarded by many students of Swedish literature as the foremost living Swedish writer. She is certainly the most popular Swedish author; and some of her books have not only been ranked with Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tales, but have evoked the same kind of affectionate interest. Miss Lagerlof was born in the province of Varmland and spent her girlhood among rural scenes. At 24 she stepped into the real world and went to Stockholm to train for the teaching profession. Her first experience in this work was in a girls' school in a little town in the south of Sweden. It was while thus employed that she made her first essay in authorship and was the winner of a prize offered by a women's magazine for the best short story. In a remarkably short time the genius of Miss Lagerlof as a novelist was widely recognized. In 1909 she was awarded the Nobel prize for literature.

The most valuable kind of gum is amber, which is found on the shores of the Baltic. It is the fossilized remans of the gum secreted by giant pines which once grew densely around the shores of this sea. Primative man polished it and shaped it into ornaments, and 4,000 years ago merchants came regularly to the Baltic coast to barter their wages for amber, which was taken to Greece, Egypt and even the Far East.

One of the earliest smoking "mixtures" in England was a small quantity of tobacco blended with horehound, yarrow, and foolsfoot.

The experience of thousands of motorists, combined with exhaustive study and experiment by automobile manufacturers and oil refiners, has proved conclusively that no single grade of oil can successfully lubricate all automobile engines.

Polarine Motor Oils are supplied in five grades to provide a correct lubricant for every automobile and motor truck engine.

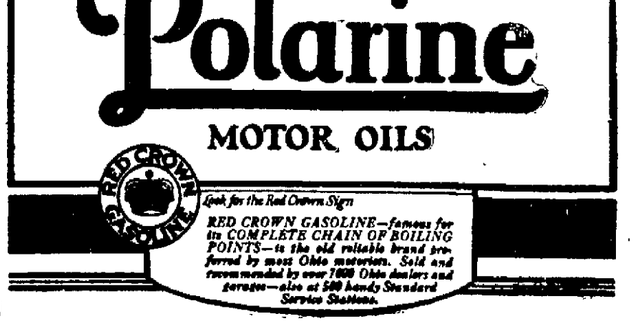

In preparing five grades of Polarine Motor Oil we endeavor not only to make oils of the highest possible quality, but to define with great care the specific grade to be used in each type of motor.

We have, therefore, provided the Polarine Chart of Recommendations. It specifies with trustworthy accuracy the correct grade of Polarine Motor Oil for every make of car, summer or winter.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicines. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms,—hot flashes, insomnia, etc.,—and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial."—Mrs. H. L. Lorain County Plans Crow Shoot

Ernie Nichols, Penfield. It was during this trip that Chambers suddenly died, cutting their stay short.

The talk was illustrated by a fine series of pictures showing the country, the streams, forests, and mountains, their camping place, means of transportation, pictures of the noble moose that they had gone to hunt, fish that they caught, and of the guide that accompanied them. Rev. Eastman, is a fluent speaker, and gave a graphic picture of the stalking of the moose, his habits and general characteristics, that was highly entertaining. Above everything else that he prized, he declared, was the freedom one felt in the big open woods, sixty miles away from the nearest habitation, and declared that it did ones soul good to get out in the open and commune with nature. It required considerable effort and some expenditure of money, but the result obtained was well worth what it cost. His party secured several moose, and he stated that within a few days the heads of these animals properly mounted would be ready for exhibition.

It was a most successful meeting, and a number of new members were added to the roster.

In a gun battle Sunday Deputy Sheriff Smith of Lima was shot in the hand when Everhart made his escape from the officers after they found him on the farm of Robert Milton. His brother Harry Everhart was arrested and taken to Lima.

Emma Milton, 17 year old daughter of Robert Milton, proudly told officers today that she is the sweetheart of Everhart. And now she faces, alone, a probable charge of juvenile delinquency. The girl told officers that the Everhart brothers had expected and prepared for an attack by officials. She said they feared that Darrel McCarty, Lima, a member of the gang to which they belonged, who was captured in Lima, would reveal their hiding place.

Police are of the opinion a gang of professional crooks, who had laid careful plans were responsible for it.

The local team was staged to play the Lorain Atlas. Local observers claim the defeat of the Baracas was uncalled for. Only occasionally did the Baracas play in their usual form. This is the first defeat the team has had.

The Junior Baracas have arranged to play the Lorain Lions at Wellington, April 4. The Lorain Lions are known as one of the finest teams in this part of the county. Boosters for the Baracas believe Wellington can give them a good battle. To secure such a team as the Lorain Lions to come to Wellington means of course a heavy expense. Wellington should support the effort.

Mrs. Wolfrum Suffered For 10 Yrs. With Stomach Trouble, Was Almost Desperate When She Tried Tanlac—Relief Came.

"For ten years," states Mrs. Margaret Wolfrum, esteemed resident of 1464 Sherburn Ave., St. Paul, Minn., "I suffered severely from stomach trouble and when I began taking Tanlac, I was so weak and exhausted that my condition bordered on desperation.

"I never had an appetite, could scarcely digest anything and the gases and dizzy spells were almost unbearable. I also had long spells of headaches which kept me awake whole nights and simply wrecked my nerves.

"Tanlac has done what other treatments on which I spent large sums of money failed to do—brought me complete relief. Even those awful headaches have left me, and I am now enjoying the best of health and strength. I have a grand appetite. I sleep soundly and get up mornings refreshed and happy. My gratitude to Tanlac is beyond expression."

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1924, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Children Were Taken Into the House with Madge.

EDWIN alighted from the car and helped me down. As I adjusted my hat and shook my coat as free of wrinkles as I could, he spoke in a tone which he meant to make offhand, but in which I recognized a stressful note

"Why don't you take the children in with you? It will give them a chance to stretch their legs, and I'll move over in the driver's seat so the car will be perfectly safe."

He smiled as if the words were the jest they appeared, but I caught his meaning at once. If the children went with me, and he took the seat he had indicated, passers by would see only a well dressed middle-aged couple in a car instead of a machine full of children, for whom by now an organized search might be in progress. That he was trying to spare Harriet the worry of such a surmise was patent, but I felt my own spirits chill at this evidence of his anxiety. With our successful eluding of the pursuing car when we had fled through the fog to Riverhead, I had shed my own fears and this glimpse of my practical brother-in-law's thought processes daunted me.

But I preserved the "poker face," upon the possession of which Dicky sometimes teases me, and replied brightly, "That's a splendid idea. How about the children? Would you like to come inside with me?"

Shabbiness Only Lack of Paint.

There was an unanimous chorus of glad and excited assent, and with a thankful glance at the street, bare just then of either pedestrians or vehicles, I took Roderick by the hand, and with the other children chattering excitedly in my wake, I started toward the house which Lillian had described to me.

"You'll say 'The Night Before Christmas' all the way up to it," she had prophesied, and indeed I was strongly reminded of the illustration of the famous old poem as I saw its towers, its long windows and its verandas. Before I had stopped the car I had observed that it was the shabbiest house along the road, all the others giving evidence of suburban prosperity. But as I sent searching glances around me, I saw that the shabbiness was only a lack of paint. Everything about the place was clean and tidy, and the grounds showed the evidence of care. It was the most unattractive time of the year, with the trees denuded of leaves, and as we approached the house, and saw how profusely it was covered with honeysuckle vines, climbing roses and clinging ivies, I saw that in the season of bud and blossom it must be a rarely beautiful old place

Lillian had told me that the name of the woman to whom she was sending me was Mrs. Bird, and with a smile at the remembrance of incongruous names I had experienced, I visualized my prospective hostess as a tall, stout woman, telling myself that an ostrich is as much a bird as a sparrow.

But when, in answer to my ring the front door opened, and I found myself looking down upon a mite of a woman, bronzed of skin from wind and sun, brown-haired, and possessed of brown eyes as bright and keen as those of her namesakes, I was so nonplused that for a second I forgot Lillian's message, and stammered out a request for board and lodging for a few days.

The brown eyes narrowed a trifle. "Who sent you to me?" she asked, courteously enough, but the inference was plain that she took no strangers without references, and, indeed, there was no sign about the place that it was other than a suburban home.

The Letter Works Magic.

For reply, I opened my bag and silently handed her Lillian's note. I saw her face change as she looked at the chirography, and with a welcoming gesture she threw the door wide open.

"Come in and sit down while I read this," she said hospitably. "Come, children."

She ushered us into a hall which ran through the middle of the house with rooms upon either side opening from it. Into one of these, a room at the extreme back, she led us and saw that we all had comfortable seats before the fire blazing in the grate before she opened Lillian's note.

"This is my own sitting room," she explained, as she settled herself in a chair opposite me. "You will pardon me"

I nodded a smiling, perfunctory assent, and she tore open Lillian's note, read it through twice, then looked at me thoughtfully.

"This may be a risky business," she said, "but I'll do anything for Mrs. Underwood. Where are the rest of your party of whom she speaks?"

"In a car at the gate," I answered.

"There's a garage in the rear, open, and with space at the right for a car. You'd better get your car and your people in and out of sight as soon as possible. Children, I have some of the nicest sugar cookies out in the kitchen you ever tasted Will you come with me and get some while your auntie brings in the car?"

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Play Which Created Continual Convulsions of Laughter to Be Also Sold Out for Tonight and Wednesday Matinee and Night

"Abie's Irish Rose" more than lived up to its reputation in its opening performance at the Rialto Theatre last night when it was greeted with a capacity house.

Elyrians could readily see why the snow played to capacity houses at the Colonial Theater, Cleveland, for 28 consecutive weeks with the seats all sold out for two weeks in advance. Elyrians will take every available seat tonight as well as tomorrow afternoon and evening. There are some good seats left for each remaining performance but these are being rapidly taken. It is conjectured that this show could remain in Elyria for a solid week and have a capacity house each night. The seat sales already break all records for any play ever booked in Elyria.

The show has such laughter propensities that it is not uncommon for some to see it several times and get some new enlightenment and enjoyment each time. It is a mirth-provoking scream from the opening to the final curtain and there is no letting up during the two and one-half hours that spectators forget everything else and laugh as many have never laughed before.

The play cannot be described. It must be heard to be appreciated. The play centers around Abie and his Irish bride married by a Methodist minister and later re-wed by a Rabbi and a priest. The difficulties are entirely ironed out when religious differences are patched up and all forget their prejudices and become absorbed in the twins, a boy named in honor of its grandfather Patrick Joseph Murphy and the daughter in behalf of its other grandfather and named Rebekah Rachel Levy. It is a misfortune for every Elyrian who because of inability to get seats fails to see and enjoy this laugh-provoking performance.

LASSES WHITE'S MINSTRELS AT RIALTO FRIDAY

An event of real importance for those who have the old time minstrels will occur when "Lasses" White's band of black face artists appear at the Rialto Theatre on Friday night March 28. "Lasses", as has always been his custom will appear personally at every performance presenting new characterizations of the real Southern darky such as won for him the coveted place vacated by the late "Honey Boy" Evans. That Lasses was born in the South has no doubt aided him considerably in the faithful portraitures he offers. Having an opportunity daily to study the negro and being interested in it, he should and does portray his real characteristics and humorous moods so truthfully that he has no rival in minstrelsy. There will be a strong quartet of end men this season as it includes besides "Lasses' Billy Doss, Dan Holt, "Zip" Lee and Bobby Burns while the interlocutors will be Maxwell Gordon and Grover Schepp. Of dancers and singers all stronger than ever. Mail orders now. Seat sale Thursday.

BUILD WEIGHT AND HEALTH WITH PLEASANT SPRING TONIC

Leonard Lesure, Ohio Farmer, Tells How To Keep Well And Strong Through Spring's Uncertain Days, By Taking Todd's Tonic, Which Has The Strength Building Qualities of Rare Old Wine.

"I had a poor appetite, poor blood and my sleep was very poor. I would always feel tired, but when I got to bed I could not sleep. All I did was toss and turn from one side of the bed to the other. I was a complete nervous wreck and the least little thing annoyed me. I was losing weight. Then my friends told me about Todd's Tonic and I took it. I noticed the difference in my health from the first bottle. My appetite grew so that I always felt hungry. My bowels seemed to act better and are more regular and I am now taking the third bottle and I can say that Todd's Tonic sure has done wonders for me as my age of seventy-one might make me feel tired and worn out but Todd's Tonic has given me back my strength and has given be a new place in life. I feel just as good as I did fifteen years ago. I also recommend Todd's Tonic Laxative Tablets to any person suffering from constipation" — LEONARD. LESURE, Farmer, R. F. No. 2, Alliance, O.

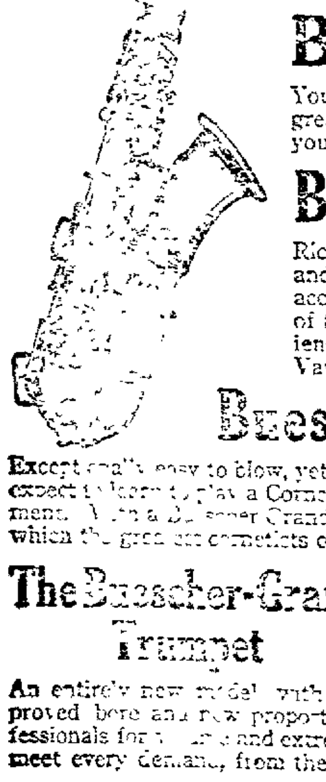

Todd's Tonic, with its wine like flavor, is most pleasant to take. Sold at Muir Drug Co., and other good drug stores in Elyria.

NEW NATIONAL PARK ON LAKE ISLAND IS PLANNED

Two views of Isle Royale and a map showing its location.

The United States may have a new national park shortly. Co-operation of the government in the movement to make Isle Royale, in Lake Superior, public domain is believed assured by the action of the secretary of the interior, Hubert Work, in ordering all government owned land on the island withdrawn from entry. The Island Copper Co., is willing to make a gift of the 45,000 acres of land not owned by the state and national governments.

The national park service believes Isle Royale offers a long desired opportunity to establish a really great national playground and game refuge east of the Mississippi. There is now only one national park east of the river. The island is practically the last large area of virgin territory in the country.

Finds Kellogg's Bran "Easy way to avoid constipation" after suffering for years

Constipation is a dangerous disease. It can lead to many others. Twenty years' suffering with constipation undermined this man's health. Kellogg's Bran restored it—as it has done for thousands. This is what he says:

"Gentlemen:

After eating Kellogg's Bran twice a day for one month I find it not only an 'Easy Way to Avoid Constipation,' but an easy and most pleasant way to cure it. I have been troubled with constipation . . . for more than twenty years . . . after adopting the milk and bran diet I find my stomach greatly improved, and find it a specific for constipation.

. . . I deem it only justice that you should know what your product has done for me, and what it is capable of doing for others."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Kellogg's Bran relieves mild and chronic constipation because it is ALL bran. It brings sure results. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine in nature's own way. Don't experiment. Only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring permanent relief—or your grocer returns your money. You should eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

The flavor is delicious—nut-like—cooked and krumbled. Enjoy it with milk or cream, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the delightful recipes on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by grocers everywhere.—Advertisement.

THE CHRONICLE TELEGRAM

SOCIETY

Pianist's Concert Pleases Elyrians Monday Evening

Edouard G. McMullen, concert pianist, gave a masterly account of himself in the recital given by him last evening at the First Congregational church. His work showed much brilliance and strength in execution and in Chopin's Etude in A flat, his interpretation might well be termed exquisite. McMullen has devoted his study and career largely to the works of Chopin, and a fine musical insight was evidenced by the pianist into the compositions of that master musician which made up his program.

Two of his own compositions, which were highly appreciated by the audience, were given as encores and were, namely: "Warum" and "Danse Charmante."

The following Chopin numbers composed the program, which was as follows:

I.
Etude C minor Opus No. 12 (Revolutionary)
Etude A flat (Posthumus)
Etude F minor Opus 25 No. 3
Etude A flat minor Opus 25 No. 6 (Thirds)
Etude C minor (Posthumus)

II.
Berceuse (Cradle Song)
Prelude Opus 28 No. 1, C Maj
Prelude Opus 28 No. 23, F Maj
Tarantelle A flat

III.
Funeral Marche
Polonaise A flat, Opus 53.

Mr. McMullen substituted one of Chopin's Prelude for the Etudes F minor and A flat minor in the first group.

Following the recital, several availed themselves of the opportunity of meeting Mr. McMullen personally and to express the desire that he might be heard again in the city another year.

Later she saw many of the victors return to their homes and one of them became her husband.

PARIS DEPICTS MILADY'S CHAPEAU FOR YEAR 2,000

At a ball in Paris where the "millinery that will be fashionable in the year 2,000" was the chief feature these freak hats were shown. The one at the top and the leaf hat second from the left won first prize. The monogram on the Napoleonic chapeau at the extreme left will not be new as the present day hats and blouses use the idea. On the extreme right is a "picture hat" with turbanlike crown and wide brim of lace. And next to that is a Mephistopheles appearing arrangement with projecting ears. If this prophecy is true most of us will congratulate ourselves on the probability of not being alive to usher in the style in the year 2,000.

MISSION NOTES ST. MARY'S CHURCH

St. Mary's Church was again filled to capacity Monday evening to hear Father Dillon discuss the subject: "What Catholics think of the Bible?" He said that the Catholic church has great love and respect for the Bible; she considers it the word of God, written under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. He furthermore declared that the Catholic Church was responsible for the preservation of the Bible for fifteen centuries, and that she wishes her members to read it.

He said, however, that the Catholic Church does not believe that the Bible contains the entire deposit of revelation, and that a living organization or society is necessary to interpret the Holy Book and that the Church does not believe in private interpretation of the Bible.

Mrs. Wilfred Bowdler was the soloist of the evening.

Tonight Mr. Arthur Boily will sing, and Father Schumacher will speak on: "The Need of Supreme Authority in Religion: the Pope and his Papacy."

TWO NEW SHAPES VARY THE STILL POPULAR CLOCHE

Here are two little hats that are not lacking in chic but afford a distinct relief from the all-pervading cloche. The upper one is called a bridal hat and would be a very pretty accompaniment of the bride's going away gown. It has a floating veil that adds to its bride-i-ness. The lower chapeau is a narrow brimmed sailor, a style that is quite popular worn with the new tailleurs. A scarf of rainbow hues matches the trimming on the hat.

Try This Way To Get Relief From Head Colds

Nothing to Swallow—You Just Melt a Little in a Spoon and Breathe in the Healing Vapors.

To stop a head cold, try this simple, direct method. Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the penetrating Vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc. Also put a little up each nostril and sniff well back.

Another method is to heat a tin cup, put in a teaspoonful of Vicks and inhale the vapors that way. As fast as the vapors lose their strength, throw out the melted Vicks and add fresh.

Mothers prefer Vicks for their children because it avoids so much internal dosing. It can be used with perfect safety on the youngest child.

OTTAWA, March 25.—Search of the ground surrounding the hovel occupied by Daniel Shaefer, 68, Ottawa recluse, has failed to reveal any of the hoardings the old man was reputed to possess. Villagers who had noted the recluse beneath the dim light of an oil lamp night after night, grew to believe that he was the miser of tradition and story, counting his wealth. He was a Bible student, they knew, and failure to find any gold has led them to believe that rather than counting gold, the old man was merely studying the scriptures. He died while trying to rescue one of his many dog companions from the path of a train.

ELYRIA, WELLINGTON OBERLIN TEAMS ELIMINATED

The first round of the Lorain County Class "A" basketball championship was played last night at the local Y. M. C. A. under whose auspices these games are being played. Seven games in all were played last night, starting at 7 p. m. sharp and finishing around 11:30 p. m., and there were several very surprising upsets in the evening's games.

In the first game the Templars of Lorain battled against the Belden Arrows and this was one of the best games of the evening in all around playing. Both teams were about on a par as playing was concerned but the Belden players could not keep the ball in the basket when they shot, but the Templars had better luck and the final score was 44 to 19.

The second game of the evening was also very good but was a little rough in spots and quite a number of fouls were called during the two halves. The Omars seemed to have a little better shooting eye than the Questions of Elyria and the final score was 21 to 8 in favor of the former.

In the third game the Nickolettes which is made up of one family seemed to be in good running order for they took the Enameled Products of Elyria into camp by a score of 28 to 15. Both teams played a hard and fast floor game.

The fourth game of the evening was one of the upsets for this game was predicted by many as a win for the Junior Baracas of Wellington over the Atlas Club of Lorain. Both teams started out with a rush which continued up until the last whistle. Both teams had their fair quota of rooters out and they kept things humming throughout the game. First one team would forge ahead and then the other and some real playing was displayed by both teams in all phases of the game. The first half finished 11 to 9 in favor of the Lorain team but in the last half they lengthened their lead until at the end of the game the score stood 27 to 17 in favor of the Atlas club.

In the fifth game of the evening the Hungarian Reformed of Lorain, took the floor against the American Lace of Elyria and after a fairly good game the Lorain team romped home with a victory by the score of 25 to 7.

The other upset of the evening was the defeat of the Oberlin Independents at the hands of the St. Peter's church team of Amherst. This game was one of the best of the evening and kept the large crowd on their toes most of the time during the two halves. Both teams played a hard and fast floor game and clear up to the last second of play it was hard to tell just who would land on top in the final jump. When the gong sounded for the end of the game the St. Peter's team was leading their Oberlin opponents by the score of 18 to 17.

The last game of the evening also proved to be a real game and it was a neck and neck race up until the last play with one team taking the lead and then the other. Finally the Sioux of Lorain forged ahead and defeated the Columbia Steel of Elyria 21 to 18. Both teams played a hard and good game.

Following are the games scheduled for tonight in the second round of play-offs:

7 p. m.—Methodist (E) vs. Frederick Hardwares (B).

7 p. m.—St. Nicholas (L) vs. Yosh Billiards (S.A.).

WILL WALT HANG UP SOUP BONE BEFORE IT'S DONE?

The baseball world may never know how long the mighty arm of Walter Johnson might have carried him through the big leagues. For, as King Walt unlimbers it for his eighteenth season in the majors and with Washington he is laying plans to retire from the game voluntarily to enter the magnating end as owner of a minor league franchise. The probabilities are the coming season will be his last. His plans become known as critics who have watched him in action in the Tampa, Fla., camp of the Senators, remark that he seems good for three or four more years. He is training as religiously as ever and his wing appears in good shape. Johnson, one of the brainiest men in the game's history, is financially able to step out of the pitcher's box. He has won fame aplenty. He no doubt desires to get away from the grind. But if he does quit before the ol' soup bone yells "Enough," fans will always wonder how long he could have gone on.

The new "hope" is Arturo Del Monte. He stands 6 feet 4 inches tall and is well proportioned.

SPENCER WINS MEDINA CO. TITLE

Wins Three Other Prizes After Defeating Lodi, Hinckley, Chatham and York in Succession

SPENCER, March 25. — The Medina County basketball tournament was held at Lodi Saturday, March 22nd. A large and enthusiastic crowd was present. The Spencer team here showed much strong playing and good team work. Ray Brouse, center, played exceptionally well. The two guards, Stuart and Borror, kept their apponents from making many baskets. The forwards, Firestone and Aldrich surpassed all other forwards in Medina county.

In the draw fate put Lodi in Spencer's hands. Spencer carried the honors of a fast game with a score of 17-10. This was the most interesting and exciting game of the day as Lodi and Spencer are bitter rivals.

In the second round of games Spencer defeated Hinckley 24-12.

Spencer and Chatham played in the semi-final games, Spencer being victorious with a score of 23-8.

The first game played in the evening was for the decision of third place. This game was played between Brunswick and Chatham. Chatham defeated Brunswick 22-16.

An over-crowded house witnessed the deciding game of the day. The crowd expected York to give Spencer a very close game but Spencer played basketball as they never played before. York was unable to break up their fine teamwork. Even though Spencer knew the game was their's they played hard at a fast pace showing their supremacy over every other team in Medina county. The crowd called for more baskets from Spencer and the boys satisfied their wishes with a score 64-10. Spencer will be awarded a silver loving cup as a reward for their excellent playing and sportsmanship.

Not only did Spencer win this championship but they received three of the five individual prizes offered by the Lodi merchants. The coaches voted for the players exclusive of their own team, which they considered the best man for that position. Ray Brouse, Spencer center, was chosen as center for the all Medina county team; McDonald Stuart, Spencer left guard; House, Lodi, right guard; Burdette Aldrich, Spencer, right forward; McVicker, Chatham, left forward. This is a just and fitting reward to Spencer for their superb and clean playing throughout the basketball season.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 25 —Whether South Dakota will remain in the ranks of conservative states or swing to the progressive column was the question its voters were deciding today at the primary. It was the first state primary in which both major parties had contestants.

It is said oysters ten inches long are found in New Guinea.

50,000 CHICKS FOR 1924
—14 Breeds—
Quality in chicks is a great deal like a grain crop. The bigger the crop, the better the quality.
A similarity exists in incubation. A good hatch is and always has been a sure indication of quality in the chicks.
Our specialty is turning out big hatches. 65 to 85% has been the rule and not the exception with our custom hatching last season.
Names of customers are on file for references.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

Is there anyone in the audience old enough to recall the old song which went:
"And the band played Annie Laurie,
While the firemen played the hose."
If there is, then a revision is in order, following a feature of a fire in Columbus recently which caused several thousand dollars damage to the home of Mrs. Minnie King. Originating in a waste paper basket, the flames had considerable start before the firemen arrived.
The smoke-eaters rushed into the house, and from the midst of the flames they heard, "Mamma Loves Papa, Papa Loves Mamma." The last blue note from the smoke died down, and then it was "Hot Mamma" that came from the fire. Jazz and ballade, blues and bedtime tales continued as the firemen worked. When the blaze was subdued, the melodies went on.
Old faithful radio doesnt mind a little thing like fire. No one thought to shut off the loudspeaker when the fire began, and although the surrounding material was destroyed, the radio escaped without damage.

DINNER STORIES

A British colonel once advertised for a servant and an Irishman applied for the job.
"What I want," said the colonel "is a useful man—one who can cook drive a car, look after my horses, clean boots and windows, feed poultry, milk the cow and do a little painting and paperhanging."

"Excuse me, sor," cried Pat, "but what kind of soil ave ye here?"
"Soil?" snapped the colonel, "what's that got to do with it?"
"Well, I thought if it was clay I might make bricks in me spare toime."

A now prominent lawyer, in his early days at the bar, often had to deal with poor clients. On one occasion he defended a very poor man, and offered to do so for nothing. He won the case, and the client was so grateful that he sent the lawyer 15 shillings. The attorney accepted this small sum, so as not to hurt the man's feelings; but later on he was reproached by a fellow lawyer for doing so.
"Why," said the latter gentleman, "did you take 15 shillings? Don't you know that it is unprofessional conduct for us lawyers to take less than gold?"
"Well," was the answer, "I took all the poor beggar had. You don't consider that is unprofessional, do you?"
